

Writer: _____
Reviewer: _____

Peer Review Checklist

Intro:

- Opening general statement
- Author, work, genre in second sentence
- Thesis stated clearly
- Thesis: _____

Things I liked:

Things I think you can improve:

Body ¶ 1:

- Topic: _____
- Topic sentence states topic clearly
- Sub-topics developed thoroughly
- Sub-topics supported by examples and/or quotes
- Transition sentence concludes this topic and moves on to the next topic

Things I liked:

Things I think you can improve:

Body ¶ 2:

- Topic: _____
- Topic sentence states topic clearly
- Sub-topics developed thoroughly
- Sub-topics supported by examples and/or quotes
- Transition sentence concludes this topic and moves on to the next topic

Things I liked:

Things I think you can improve:

Body ¶ 3:

- Topic: _____
- Topic sentence states topic clearly
- Sub-topics developed thoroughly
- Sub-topics supported by examples and/or quotes
- Concluding sentence concludes this topic

Things I liked:

Things I think you can improve:

Conclusion:

- First sentence restates thesis in different words
- Second sentence is a concluding statement
- Last sentence is a “clincher”

Things I liked:

Things I think you can improve:

Voice:

- Writer has a clear sense of their audience
- Avoids the use of I, you, we, the reader, in my opinion, I think...

Flow:

- Movement between words is smooth
- Movement between sentences is smooth
- Movement between paragraphs is smooth